U.D. WORKSHOP FEATURES GEOFFREY DYSON

DAYTON, Ohio, June 3, 1975 --- Geoffrey H.G. Dyson, internationally known author and track and field coach, will address the opening session of the Summer Track and Field Workshop sponsored by the Department of Physical and Health Education of the University of Dayton.

Mr. Dyson's initial address on June 16 at 6:00 p.m. in Room 311, Kennedy Union, is open to the public. Anyone interested in registering for the workshop should contact Jim LaVanche, 229-2946.

Mr. Dyson is President of the British Association of National Coaches and Honorary Member of the International Olympic Academy. He has lectured on all five continents and has witnessed six Olympic Games.

The London Observer comments that Mr. Dyson is "one of the greatest physical educators in the world"; the Athletic Weekly calls him "Dynamic--without a peer in the coaching world. The very nature of the man inspires not only athletes and other coaches but all those he comes in contact with."

Mr. Dyson's opening address will be concerned with Modern Olympics; he will also speak daily to the workshop participants. Other clinicians include: Steve Price, Kettering Striders; Bill Schnier, Trotwood-Madison High School; and Don Mitchell, Roosevelt High School.
